The Tree of Life Graduate Enrichment Weekends Programme

Purpose

The Graduate Enrichment Program is envisioned as a continuation of the Tree of Life journey — a way for graduates to stay connected and deepen their spiritual practice within a familiar rhythm of theological education, prayer and reflection.

It invites ongoing growth in contemplative depth and community life, offering renewed formation and belonging for alumni while strengthening the vitality and continuity of the wider Tree of Life community.

Program Vision

Many Tree of Life graduates express a desire to stay connected with the contemplative rhythm, prayerful community, and spiritual dialogue that shaped their formation.

The Graduate Enrichment Program invites them to return — not as students, but as fellow pilgrims — engaging in presentations, shared reflection, discernment, and prayer within the familiar rhythm of the weekends.

Group and Format:
Concurrent with 2026 Tree of Life Spiritual Formation Weekends

The program would run alongside the regular Tree of Life weekends, with a small group of 6–12 graduates participating in shared presentations, group sharing, prayer, and Eucharist. This scale allows for intimacy, depth, and continuity.

Each graduate would have the opportunity to share personally and specifically for group reflection once per year — offering a spiritual issue or question of significance to them.

With twelve participants, three would present at each of the four weekends of February, May, August and November, at the St John of God Retreat Centre.
